

James Chichester-Clark: Prime Minister of Northern Ireland – £2

Charting his political life, particularly during the dark days of 1969, as well as examining his private life before and after his term as Prime Minister.

John M. Andrews: Northern Ireland's Wartime Prime Minister – £5

The book highlights the largely unsung and forgotten contributions made by this diligent and devoted man who led the Province during the disastrous air raids of early 1941 and welcomed the Americans in 1942.

Maeve de Markievicz: Daughter of Constance – £4

Maeve, though not a frontline subject in Ireland's history, has an interesting and compelling story to reveal. Her position as the daughter of such a famous Irishwoman makes for a unique look at the mother/daughter relationship.

The Lives of Ten Influential Irishwomen – £5

The short biographies of ten intrepid Irishwomen: Constance Markievicz, Maud Gonne, Hanna Sheehy Skeffington, Sarah Purser, Saidie Patterson, Edith Londonderry, Augusta Gregory, Alice Milligan, Mary Bailey, Hazel Lavery.

Eight Fearless Irishmen – £5

Short biographies of eight fearless and inspiring Irishmen: Michael Collins, Kevin O'Higgins, Douglas Hyde, Hugh Lane, Michael O'Rahilly, Thomas MacDonagh, Erskine Childers, Paul Cullen

Six Famous Sons of Killyleagh – £5

Sir Hans Sloane, Henry Blackwood, Henry Cooke, Edward Hincks, Terry Cochrane, David Healy

William Craig: His Life in Politics – £4

Little is known of William Craig's private life so in writing this memoir it has not been my intention in any way to focus on that, but to concentrate on what made him tick in the public arena.

Irish History for the Inquisitive – £8

Includes thirteen stories from Ireland's history covering a broad range of events and personalities including: St Patrick – the Great Flu – JM Synge – the stolen village of Baltimore – German spies in Ireland – the theft of the Irish Crown Jewels – the Fremantle Mission and more.

A Personal Study of Ireland's Pioneers – £10

It is my chief endeavour to share the real stories of unsung heroes and heroines of this country. Become James Connolly or Louie Bennett as you read their stories and come to your own conclusions. You decide – and don't let others decide for you.

Golfers in a Camper – £6

Get a flavour of the places we have been and the wonderful, quirky, funny and engaging people we have met on our golfing adventure in our two-berth campervan throughout Ireland.

Cathedral Odyssey – £5

A journey through all of Ireland's Anglican cathedrals and many more worldwide.

Heroines, Heroes & Happenings – £5

Lesser-known stories of Ireland featuring short biographies of Ethna Carbery, Charlotte Despard, Hugh O'Flaherty and more.
